
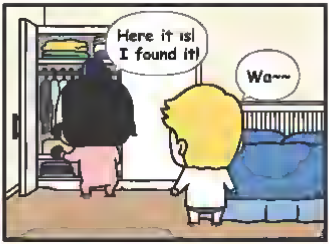
The washing machine does most of the work but the process of hanging the wet clothes and then collecting and ironing them after they've dried is...



. . . fortunately,
I found a pair of black socks

No Spare Socks

Perhaps, my least favourite part of house work is the laundry.

When we almost gave up,

That day, . .

Mev was very sexy with my knee high socks.

So I searched my socks to find some to give to Mev.

But I only had very colourful patterned socks.

These are warm~

Because
he didn't wash his socks on time
there were no spare socks to wear.

And the washed socks that he'd done were still wet.

The white laundry should be done before the black laundry.
I didn't do it yesterday so I could wash this as well.
Ah, sorry. I didn't know.

Since that time,
I've never thought or worried about the laundry at all.

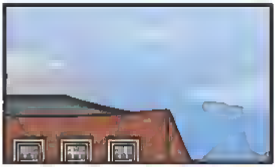
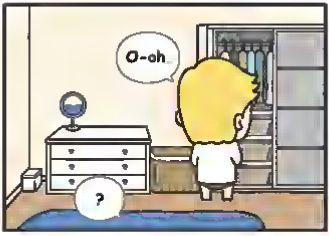
Although it was his responsibility,
I sometimes tried to help him but...

.. really not fun.

So one day, Mev promised that the laundry would be his job.



Then a few days ago.



Mev was getting ready to go to work
but he said with a puzzled voice.
